

University & BOR-SREB Ph.D. Fellowship Application

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette offers fellowships to support the recruitment of superior Ph.D. students in the areas of Applied Language and Speech Sciences, Computer Engineering, Computer Science, Earth and Energy Science, English, Environmental and Evolutionary Biology, Francophone Studies, Mathematics, and Systems Engineering. Additionally, and as available, the Graduate School awards Board of Regents/SREB Doctoral Scholars Fellowships funded jointly by UL Lafayette and the Louisiana Board of Regents as an initiative to promote student and faculty diversity. These awards are open to U.S. citizens and permanent residents from underrepresented racial or ethnic minority groups who are pursuing a Ph.D. degree and planning for a career in academia.

University and BOR-SREB fellowships are competitively awarded. Recipients are guaranteed an academic-year stipend and a waiver of tuition and most fees for the academic year and summer sessions. University Ph.D. Fellowships provide guaranteed support for three or four years, depending upon the student's previous graduate study, with an annual academic-year stipend of at least $19,080 and tuition/fee waiver worth more than $13,000+ for Louisiana residents and over $31,000+ for non-resident students to support enrollment in Fall, Spring, and Summer. BOR-SREB Fellowships provide an annual stipend that ranges from $20,000-$30,000, a tuition/fee waiver (as above), added research/travel funding, and guaranteed funding for five years; these fellowships also include membership in the SREB Doctoral Scholars Program and an annual invitation to the Institute on Teaching and Mentoring.

Fellowship applications must be accompanied by a complete application for admission to graduate studies. A complete application for admission to graduate studies includes completion of the online application; payment of the non-refundable application fee; submission of transcripts from all institutions attended; receipt of three letters of recommendation from references familiar with the your scholarly accomplishments and potential for success in a research Ph.D. program; receipt of official English language proficiency scores (if required) and any additional application materials required by the graduate program. The fellowship application should be uploaded via the application portal.
